In the mission to provide quality educational spaces, Portacom took on a significant challenge at Onekawa School. The project involved the delivery of two double teaching spaces, each serving a unique purpose. One learning space served as an RTLB (Resource Teachers of Learning and Behavior) building, providing essential resources for teaching and learning. The other was a double classroom building designed to accommodate students and support their educational journey.

The project's complexity, including the ground conditions and the removal of hazardous materials, presented formidable obstacles. Yet, with a dedicated and skilled team, Interlink overcame these challenges, ensuring the safety and wellbeing of everyone involved.
